Was kann Azure Information Protection verschlüssel¹/₄sseln?

- A. Eine Azure SQL-Datenbank
- B. Netzwerkverkehr

- C. ein Azure-Speicherkonto
- D. Dokumente und E-Mail-Nachrichten

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation

Azure Information Protection can encrypt documents and emails. Azure Information Protection is a cloud-based solution that helps an organization to classify and optionally, protect its documents and emails by applying labels. Labels can be applied automatically by administrators who define rules and conditions, manually by users, or a combination where users are given recommendations.

The protection technology uses Azure Rights Management (often abbreviated to Azure RMS). This technology is integrated with other Microsoft cloud services and applications, such as Office 365 and Azure Active Directory.

This protection technology uses encryption, identity, and authorization policies. Similarly to the labels that are applied, protection that is applied by using Rights Management stays with the documents and emails, independently of the location-inside or outside your organization, networks, file servers, and applications.
