NEW QUESTION: 2

5 numbers are randomly chosen. If their average is 20, how many of the numbers are larger than 15?

- (1) One of the numbers is 15.
- (2) The average of three of the numbers is 15.

- A. Statement (2) BY ITSELF is sufficient to answer the question, but statement (1) by itself is not.
- B. Either statement BY ITSELF is sufficient to answer the question.
- C. Statements (1) and (2) TAKEN TOGETHER are sufficient to answer the question, even though NEITHER statement BY ITSELF is sufficient.
- D. Statements (1) and (2) TAKEN TOGETHER are NOT sufficient to answer the question, requiring more data pertaining to the problem.
- E. Statement (1) BY ITSELF is sufficient to answer the question, but statement (2) by itself is not.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Let's look at two cases, where each one will give out different results.

One of the numbers is 15 and three more are 15, 15 and 15 (with an average of 15).

The sum of all the numbers should be ( $20 \times 5 = 100$ ).

The sum of the numbers we picked up is ( $15 \times 4 = 60$ ) and therefore the last number should be 40 which is greater than 15. The answer in this case is 1.

Take another case: One of the numbers is 15 and three more are 14, 15 and 16 (with an average of 15). In this case there will be 2 numbers over 15. More data is required.

`ValidateCustomer` returns true if the integer provided references a valid customer. `ValidateCustomer` can take up to one second to run.

You need to create a method that returns a list of valid customer IDs. The code must execute in the shortest amount of time.

What should you do? (Develop the solution by selecting and ordering the required code snippets. You may not need all of the code snippets.)
