NEW QUESTION: 1
What is the maximum number of hops from the device that generated the given output to its BGP neighbor at 4.4.4.4?
Refer to the exhibit.

A. 0
B. 1
C. 2
D. 3
E. 4
F. 5
Answer: F
Explanation:
same as example:
https://supportforums.cisco.com/document/86776/securing-ebgp-sessions-ttl-security-feature
the missing part from output is (so that is the answer) External BGP neighbor may be up to 3 hops away.
command applied on that appliance is:
neighbor 4.4.4.4 ttl-security hops 3

This feature is configured using neighbor <ip-address> ttl-security hops <count> BGP configuration command. The TTL value is calculated by the router from the configured hop count i.e. TTL = 255 - (hop count).
This feature has few limitations
On enabling neighbor ttl-security feature, neighbor
ebgp-multihop is not required.
The feature is only for EBGP and not IBGP.
4.4.4.4 is originating BGP packets with a TTL of 255, and R expects the packets it receives from 4.4.4.4 to have at least 252 (as in BGP configuration of R has neighbor 4.4.4.4
ttl-security hops 3, so a TTL value 255-3=252).
The BGP will establish and maintain the session only if the TTL value in the IP packet is equal to or greater than the TTL value configured for the peer.

NEW QUESTION: 2
You have heard recently that the client calls your progress reports the "Code of Hammurabi" because they seem to be written in hieroglyphics and are completely indecipherable to all but an antiquities scholar. This situation could have been avoided by_____
A. Engaging in communications planning
B. Hiring an expert report writer to prepare standard reports
C. Informing the client at the start of the project about the types of reports they will receive
D. Using risk management techniques to identify client issues
Answer: A
Explanation:
Explanation/Reference:
Explanation:
The communications management plan is prepared during plan communications management.
The plan should include a description of the information to be distributed such as format, content, level of detail, as well as conventions and definitions to be used.
