NEW QUESTION: 3

Amazon S3 Lifecycle policies are used to manage the lifecycle of objects in a bucket. They allow you to define rules that automatically transition objects to different storage classes or delete them based on specific criteria. The correct answer is A, which describes configuring lifecycle configuration rules on the S3 bucket.

- A. S3 lifecycle configuration rules are used to manage the lifecycle of objects in a bucket.
- B. S3 lifecycle configuration rules are used to manage the lifecycle of IAM users.
- C. S3 lifecycle configuration rules are used to manage the lifecycle of IAM groups.
- D. S3 lifecycle configuration rules are used to manage the lifecycle of CORS headers.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

The AWS Documentation mentions the following on lifecycle policies

Lifecycle configuration enables you to specify the lifecycle management of objects in a bucket. The configuration is a set of one or more rules, where each rule defines an action for Amazon S3 to apply to a group of objects. These actions can be classified as follows:

Transition actions - In which you define when objects transition to another storage class. For example, you may choose to transition objects to the STANDARD_IA (Infrequent Access) storage class 30 days after creation, or archive objects to the GLACIER storage class one year after creation.

Expiration actions - In which you specify when the objects expire. Then Amazon S3 deletes the expired objects on your behalf.

Option A and C are invalid because neither bucket policies nor IAM policy's can control the purging of logs. Option D is invalid because CORS is used for accessing objects across domains and not for purging of logs. For more information on AWS S3 Lifecycle policies, please visit the following URL:

<https://aws.amazon.com/AmazonS3/latest/dg/lifecycle-configuration.html>

The correct answer is: Configuring lifecycle configuration rules on the S3 bucket. Submit your Feedback/Queries to our Experts
