The Development team at an online retailer has moved to Business support and want to take advantage of the AWS Health Dashboard and the AWS Health API to automate remediation actions for issues with the health of AWS resources. The first use case is to respond to AWS detecting an IAM access key that is listed on a public code repository site. The automated response will be to delete the IAM access key and send a notification to the Security team.

How should this be achieved?

- A. Use AWS Step Functions to create a function to delete the IAM access key, and then use Amazon SNS to send a notification to the Security team. Create an AWS Personal Health Dashboard rule for the `AWS_RISK_CREDENTIALS_EXPOSED` event; set the target of the Personal Health Dashboard rule to Step Functions.
- B. Create an AWS Lambda function to delete the IAM access key. Send AWS CloudTrail logs to AWS CloudWatch logs. Create a CloudWatch Logs metric filter for the `AWS_RISK_CREDENTIALS_EXPOSED` event with two actions: first, run the Lambda function; second, use Amazon SNS to send a notification to the Security team.
