NEW QUESTION: 4
HOTSPOT
Your network contains one Active Directory forest named contoso.com.

All client computers for the sales department are in an organizational unit (OU) named Sales. All of the sales department computers run Windows 8.1.
You plan to use Group Policy preferences to map several drives on the sales department computers.
You need to perform the following actions:
* Create a drive mapping on all of the sales department computers for drive X. If drive X already exists, the current drive mapping should NOT be modified.
* Create a drive mapping on all of the sales department computers for drive Y. If drive Y already exists, the UNC path must be modified, but all other settings must be maintained.
Which action should you use for each drive mapping? To answer, select the appropriate options in the answer area.

Answer:
Explanation:

Create - If a drive mapping doesn't exist for this user for the share "\shareuserDocuments", then create one. If there already is one, don't do anything! It's a kind, gentle sort of policy, it won't overwrite anything you already have, so it has a Green icon associated in the UI.
Update - If that drive mapping exists, it will be updated with the settings specified here. If there are other settings associated with the drive mapping that aren't specified here, they will be maintained.
If no drive mapping exists for this share, create it.
