NEW QUESTION: 3
DRAG DROP You need to identify which configurations must be used to meet the web conferencing requirements. Which configuration should you identify for each requirement? To answer, drag the appropriate configuration to the correct requirement in the answer area. Each configuration may be used once, more than once, or not at all. Additionally, you may need to drag the split bar between panes or scroll to view content.

Answer:
Explanation:

Box 1: A Client policy. Applies only to users from Litware. Box 2: A conferencing policy. Applies to all users.
Box 3: A Client policy.
Applies only to users from Litware. Box 4: Meeting configuration. Note:
*Among other things, client policies help determine the features of Lync Server that are available to users; for example, you might give some users the right to transfer files while denying this right to other users. In Lync Server, client policies replace the Group Policy settings used in previous versions of the product.
*Conferencing policy is a user account setting that specifies the conferencing experience for participants. Conferencing policies determine the features and capabilities that can be used in a conference; this includes everything from whether or not the conference can include IP audio and video to the maximum number of people who can attend a meeting. Example: The command shown in the Example modifies a property value of the conferencing policy SalesConferencingPolicy; in particular, the command sets the value of the AllowConferenceRecording property to False. To do this, Set-CsConferencingPolicy is called along with the Identity parameter and the AllowConferenceRecording parameter.
Set-CsConferencingPolicy -Identity SalesConferencingPolicy -AllowConferenceRecording $False

*Meeting configuration settings help dictate the type of meetings (also called "conferences") that users can create, as well as control how (or even if) anonymous users and dial-in conferencing users can join these meetings. In this scenario the meeting configuration applies to: The following customizations can be made for meeting invitations: Customizations are made within the Meeting Configuration settings and can be scoped on a Global, Site, or Pool level.
