NEW QUESTION: 2
Note: This question is part of a series of questions that present the same scenario. Each question in the series contains a unique solution that might meet the stated goals. Some question sets might have more than one correct solution, while others might not have a correct solution.
After you answer a question in this section, you will NOT be able to return to it. As a result, these questions will not appear in the review screen.
You are using Azure Machine Learning to run an experiment that trains a classification model.
You want to use Hyperdrive to find parameters that optimize the AUC metric for the model. You configure a HyperDriveConfig for the experiment by running the following code:

You plan to use this configuration to run a script that trains a random forest model and then tests it with validation data. The label values for the validation data are stored in a variable named y_test variable, and the predicted probabilities from the model are stored in a variable named y_predicted.
You need to add logging to the script to allow Hyperdrive to optimize hyperparameters for the AUC metric. Solution: Run the following code:

Does the solution meet the goal?
A. Yes
B. No
Answer: B
Explanation:
Use a solution with logging.info(message) instead.
Note: Python printing/logging example:
logging.info(message)
